

Be environmentally friendly for our better future

As a good corporate citizen, we do not use lamination and spot UV as normally adopted by the industry in our annual report 2006. Instead, we use varnishing, an environmentally friendly technique. The whole report is also printed on recyclable and elemental chlorine free paper. This demonstrates our efforts in working for the betterment of our future generations.