

Be environmentally friendly for our better future

As a good corporate citizen, we do not use lamination as normally adopted by the industry in this report. Instead, we use varnishing, an environmentally friendly technique. The whole report is also printed on recyclable and elemental chlorine free paper. This demonstrates our efforts in working for the betterment of our future generations.