Hong Kong Police Force's Anti-Scam Education Campaign
"Emotional Disturbances Faced by Scam Victims"

The Anti-Deception Coordination Centre (ADCC) of the Hong Kong Police Force has launched a new anti-scam publicity campaign called "Emotional Disturbances Faced by Scam Victims", with a view to taking the public through the psychological skills as well as other defrauding tricks used by fraudsters in telephone deception, romance scam, investment fraud and employment fraud, in order to prevent the public from falling into these scams.

Please refer to the following website for the anti-scam information and education videos from the ADCC:-
