Wealth Management Seminar organized by Bank of China (Hong Kong) received overwhelming response

Bank of China (Hong Kong) Limited (“BOCHK”) recently organized a Wealth Management Seminar and 2 sessions of “Investor Education Seminar Series” to help customers gain insights of the market trend and make the most of every opportunity to grow their wealth. The latter one is jointly organized with the Management and Executive Development Centre of The Hong Kong Polytechnic University and Metro Finance.

The former seminar was well-received by over 700 customers. Subjects included the outlooks on property market, warrants, and the stock markets of Hong Kong and the Mainland. The 2 sessions of “Investor Education Seminar Series” were well-received by over 600 customers. The seminars aim to provide a learning platform for the general public to understand the characteristics and risks of various investment tools. Subjects included the features and related risks of basic investment tools, the potential gain and risk of derivatives, updates on the equity markets and RMB investment choices and strategies. Investment experts who shared their professional market views in the seminar were Mr Peter Pak, Executive Director, BOCI Research; Mr Moses Lui, Executive Director, Financial Products Division of BOCI Securities Limited; Dr Billy Mak, Associate Professor of Department of Finance and Decision Sciences, Hong Kong Baptist University; Dr. Allen Ng, Senior Teaching Fellow, School of Accounting and Finance, The Hong Kong Polytechnic University and Mr Arthur Shek, Associate Publisher & Head of Research Department, Hong Kong Economic Times. The participants had the opportunity to exchange their views with the guest speakers at the end of the seminar.

In addition, all participants could enter into a grand lucky draw and had a chance to win a fabulous prize.
