Statement on Fake E-mail

Bank of China (Hong Kong) (“BOCHK”) wishes to alert customers and the general public that a fake e-mail sent from “investor_relations@bochk.com”, the e-mail address of Investor Relations of the Bank. The fake e-mail requested customers to click the embedded attachment named “Wire Transfer Receipt.pdf” to confirm the remittance amount and account name, and intended to steal customers’ e-mail address and password. BOCHK declares that we have no connection with the fake e-mail. Meanwhile, the case has been reported to the Hong Kong Monetary Authority and the Hong Kong Police Force.

Anyone who has received the fake e-mail or clicked the embedded attachment should immediately call BOCHK Customer Service Hotline (852) 3988 2388 (press 4, 1 and 3 after selecting the language) and contact the Hong Kong Police Force. To verify any phone calls, e-mails, website addresses or mobile applications purporting to be from BOCHK, the public can also call the above Customer Service Hotline and then press 8 after selecting the language, to contact our staff directly.

Under no circumstances would BOCHK send out e-mails or SMS messages, or call customers asking them to call back or log into the website/Mobile Banking for system upgrade, or to provide or verify their personal information (including their passwords). When conducting transactions through electronic channels, customers are advised to type the website address of BOCHK (www.bochk.com) into the browser address bar, or download the BOCHK Mobile Application from official App stores or trustworthy sources, for access to their Internet Banking or Mobile Banking accounts. Customers should not access such accounts or provide their personal information (including their passwords) through any hyperlinks or attachments embedded in e-mails or from websites. For security information of our electronic banking services, please browse www.bochk.com/en/security.html.
