Risk Disclosure / Important Notes:

The prices of securities fluctuate, sometimes dramatically. The price of a security may move up or down, and may become valueless. It is as likely that losses will be incurred rather than profit made as a result of buying and selling securities.

Although investment may bring profit opportunities, each investment product or service involves potential risks. Due to dynamic changes in the market, the price movement and volatility of investment products may not be the same as expected by customers. Customers' funds may increase or reduce due to the purchase or sale of investment products. The value of investment funds may go up as well as down and the investment funds may become valueless. Therefore, customers may not receive any return from investment in investment funds. Part of the investment may not be able to liquidate immediately under certain market situation. Before making any investment decisions, customers should consider their own financial situation, investment objectives and experiences, risk acceptance and ability. Investment involves risks. Please refer to the relevant fund offering documents for further details including risk factors. If customers have any inquiries, they should seek advice from independent financial adviser.

The prices of bonds fluctuate, sometimes dramatically. The price of bonds may move up and down, and they may become valueless. It is as likely that losses will be incurred rather than profit made as a result of buying and selling bonds. The investment decision is yours but you should not invest in any bonds unless the intermediary who sells such product to you has explained to you that this product is suitable for you having regard to your financial situation, investment experience and investment objectives. Investment in bonds involves significant risks. It is impossible to describe every risk associated with such bonds that are relevant to you. Before making your investment decision, you should carefully read the offering documents of the relevant bonds including, in particular, the sections about risks, and ensure that you fully understand the nature and all the risks associated with an investment in the relevant bonds and are willing to assume such risks. You should carefully consider whether the relevant bonds are suitable for you in light of your own relevant circumstances. If in doubt, you should seek independent professional advice.

Structured products involve derivatives. The investment decision is yours but you should not invest in these products unless the intermediary who sells them to you has explained to you that these products are suitable for you having regard to your financial situation, investment experience and investment objectives. These products are not equivalent to time deposits and are not protected deposits under the Deposit Protection Scheme in Hong Kong.

The market in precious metals is volatile and a loss may be incurred from transacting in precious metals. Precious metals do not bear interest. Your purchase of precious metals for the account does not represent a purchase of physical metals or a deposit of money. You will not have any interest in any precious metals owned or held by us or be entitled to physical delivery of precious metals. Although investment may bring about profit opportunities, each kind of investment tool comes with its own risks. Due to the fluctuating nature of the precious metals markets, the prices of precious metals may rise or fall beyond your expectations and your investment funds may increase or decrease in value as a result of selling and purchasing of precious metals. Before making any investment decision, you should assess your own willingness and ability to bear risks and are advised to seek advice from an independent financial advisor.

The risk of loss in leveraged foreign exchange trading and precious metals trading can be substantial. You may sustain losses in excess of your initial cash margin. Placing contingent orders, such as "stop-loss" or "stop-limit" orders, will not necessarily limit losses to the intended amounts. Market conditions may make it impossible to execute such orders. You may be called upon at short notice to deposit an additional cash margin. If the required cash margin or interest payments are not provided within the prescribed time, your position may be liquidated. You will remain liable for any resulting deficit in your account and interest charged on your account. A demand for an additional cash margin is not a precondition to, and does not in any way limit, our right to liquidate your open positions according to the relevant terms and conditions. You should therefore carefully consider whether such trading is suitable in light of your own financial position and investment objectives.

Foreign currency/RMB investments are subjects to exchange rate fluctuations which may provide both opportunities and risks. The fluctuation in the exchange rate of foreign currency/RMB may result in losses in the event that the customer converts foreign currency/RMB into HKD or other foreign currencies.

RMB policies are subject to exchange rate risk. The exchange rate between RMB and HKD may rise as well as fall. Therefore, if calculated in HKD, premiums, fees and charges (where applicable), account value/ surrender value and other benefits payable under RMB policy will vary with the exchange rate. The exchange rate between RMB and HKD will be the market-based prevailing exchange rate determined by the insurer from time to time, which may not be the same as the spot rate of banks. The fluctuation in exchange rate may result in losses if a customer chooses to pay premiums in HKD, or requests the insurer to pay the account value/ surrender value or other benefits payable in HKD, for RMB policy.

RMB is currently not fully freely convertible. Hong Kong residents who intend to conduct conversion of RMB through bank accounts are subject to a daily limit and they should allow time for exchange of RMB from / to another currency of an RMB amount exceeding the daily limit. Non-Hong Kong residents (i.e. individuals who are not holders of Hong Kong Identity Card) who intend to conduct conversion of RMB through banks may occasionally not be able to do so fully or immediately, for which it is subject to the RMB position of the banks and their commercial decision at that moment. Customers should consider and understand the possible impact on their liquidity of RMB funds in advance.
